

CORN AND WHEAT PRICES SOAR RESULT OF DROUGHT

HOT WAVE IS ROLLING EAST
BEFORE RAINSSpotty Relief in Midwestern Sections
by Showers

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(UP)—Rains that brought spotty relief to the drought stricken middle west, today rolled the August heat wave eastward toward the Atlantic seaboard and southward to the fringes of the parched corn belt.

Temperatures that have hung around the 100 mark for days in the middle west sought lower levels today in the 70's and 80's after scattered showers and deluges cooled the atmosphere and broke in many areas the drought that seared crops with hundreds of millions of dollars.

The forecast from the Chicago Weather Bureau held out hope for more showers in the middle west with lowering temperatures. Eastward, however, the prediction was for warmer weather.

From the Rocky Mountains to the Ohio border the drought region was splashed with showers and in some cases deluges. Welcome rains came in Colorado, sections of Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan.

Call Drought Blessing
Farm leaders hailed the drought as a blessing in disguise, which will force farmers to diversify their crops and place them in better position to withstand drought.

Forest fires in several sections of the country added their toll today to the drought damage.

Fires that destroyed timber and cottages in the Cape Cod, Mass., district ate its way in the town of Plymouth. Fanned by a west wind the fires pushed toward the oceans with fire departments and volunteers fighting a losing battle. A general rain seemed to be the only hope of quenching the blaze.

Ellisville, Mass., was reported to be within the path of a five mile wall of flames. Seven other towns in the district were threatened by the fires.

An 80-day drought in Memphis, Tenn., and vicinity continued, the livestock and crop loss in that section has been tremendous.

High temperatures today included St. Louis, 97; Kansas City, 93; Memphis, 93; Detroit, 87; Washington, 86; New York, 83.

Heavy Rains In West
The heaviest rains reported were in Colorado, where a cloudburst flooded the Platte river and Bear Creek, and several sections of Nebraska. Tekamah, Neb., where there was a cloudburst Monday night, received another drenching when 2.80 inches of rain fell within several hours. Three thunder showers in Chicago brought a total of only .12 inches rain.

Showers fell in northern Indiana counties and several southwestern states and the northern part of Iowa was soaked by a heavy rain that at Mason City amounted to 2.45 inches. There was a half inch rainfall at Centralia, Ill., which, however, failed to check permanently the heat wave.

Cloudy weather, with scattered showers, were forecasts today for Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa and Minnesota.

At Batesville, Ind., it became necessary to carry water from the Ohio river, 30 miles away, at a cost of $500 a day. In Oklahoma City authorities announced only a heavy rainfall soon would save the city from a serious water shortage.

Insect Invasion
In addition to the drought and heat difficulties, two areas suffered from insect invasions. They were the vicinity of Mt. Vernon, Ind., and (Continued on Page 2).

Washington—Blame the moon for the heat wave, says Herbert Janviri Brown, consulting meteorologist here. In a bulletin just issued he said the lunar body, through its tidal attraction on the oceans, has caused hot winds to blow landward from the Caribbean sea and the Gulf of Mexico.

Hickman, Ky.—Thirsty snakes which come in hordes from hilly country are infesting Mississippi river bottoms here. Salvaging of two barges aground near here was halted by the army of snakes wriggling along the sandbar in search for water.

Duquoin, Ill.—Managers of the Security coal mine, located in one district of Illinois that has received no relief from the drought, requested employees today to conserve the water supply by not taking any more baths than absolutely necessary until there is a heavy rainfall.

The Dalles, Ore.—The machinery of a combine ripped all the clothing off Edward Davis, wheat rancher, except a collar, belt and a pair of shoes. Rather than hold up the threshing, he cut holes in a wheat sack for his legs, had a workman stitch the top of the sack for suspenders and kept on working.

Demented Veteran
Killed Wife, Son

Minneapolis, Aug. 6.—(AP)—A few hours after he had killed his five-year-old son with an axe and then hanged his wife so that she died in a hospital, Charles S. Hall, a demented World War veteran, surrendered at the Fort Snelling Veterans Hospital today.

Hall, who recently had been a mental patient at the hospital, returned today clad in pajamas. He urged some one to go to his home, adding "there may be something the matter with my wife."

Coroner Seashore returned a verdict of murder and said indications were that the intense heat of last week may have affected Hall's mentality.

A blood stained ax was found in the alley in the rear of the Hall home.

Hall, a former salesman, had been out of work for nearly two years and neighbors said he had been worrying about financial matters. He served as a Lieutenant during the war but did not get overseas.

Dixon's Building
Inspector Resigns

Charles McCorry, city building inspector, this morning announced his resignation, which he stated had been verbally tendered to Mayor Frank D. Palmer. The city council has taken no official action and it was intimated that a written resignation would be tendered at the next regular meeting next Tuesday evening, and that the present incumbent would serve until his successor was appointed. Mr. McCorry, who was appointed at the time the city's new building code was enacted, would not discuss his resignation today, other than to state that he had tendered it to Mayor Palmer. It was intimated, however, that objections to the code had led to the action of the inspector.

BANKBOOK AND PHOTOGRAPHS
BECOME IMPORTANT CUES IN
LINGLE, ZUTA MURDERS TODAY

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(UP)—A bankbook and several photographs became important clues today in investigations of the murders of Alfred Lingle Tribune reporter, and Jack Zuta, north side gangster.

The bankbook was one which Joseph Jack, questioned almost all night by police, said he picked up in a subway shortly after Lingle was killed on June 8. The reporter's Lingle's hand as the reporter shot in the back of the head, fell. Then, in escaping, the slayer dropped the book, Jack declared.

The photographs of several suspects in the Lingle murder were delivered Waukesha county, Wisconsin, where Zuta was murdered by seven gangsters in a dance hall last Friday.

Sophie Oninski, maid at a Wisconsin hotel where Zuta's slayers lived for several days, believed, officials said, she could definitely identify several of the men.

Police have expressed conviction that the same men who killed Lingle also killed Zuta because he, their leader, "talked" to police about the Lingle case.

Gov. Reed, Who Attacked Farm Board, Is Beaten In Kansas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rejoicing and comfort growing out of primaries in four states yesterday appeared to be distributed largely to the Farm Board, the advocate have never forgotten their brethren who did not give their all for Alfred E. Smith.

The wets found balm in a Virginia race but the dries could counter with results in West Virginia. It was a question in political circles whether the voting was an indication of the drift on national issues or was dominated by local issues and candidates.

In Kansas, however, Senator Henry J. Allen, who has endorsed almost every Hoover policy, won the Republican nomination to fill out 'Vice President Curtis' unexpired term with votes to spare.

Governor Clyde M. Reed, who took the stump to attack the Farm Board plan that Kansas farmers reduce their wheat acreage, had apparently been soundly beaten by Frank Haucke, World War veteran and former Cornell football player. Haucke, however, did not make acreage reduction a direct issue.

Senator Arthur Capper was unopposed for the Republican nomination, nor was Jonathan M. Davis, Democrat, who will run against him in November. The Kansas House delegation won their nomination.

Anti-Smith Men Beaten

The record of misfortune to those Democrats who have been assailed for opposition or lukewarm support for Smith in the 1928 campaign had another chapter added in Virginia. Thomas G. Burch attacked Rep. Joseph Whitehead for his attitude toward Smith and defeated him for the nomination in the Fifth district.

Howard Smith, who failed to get the approval of the Virginia Anti-Saloon League, won the Democratic nomination over State Senator Frank Ball, who had league endorsement, in the Eighth district.

James Ellwood Jones, coal operator, was far ahead in the race for the Republican Senatorial nomination in West Virginia. Prohibition was not a dominant issue in the campaign but one of the candidates was Benjamin L. Rosenbloom, who urged modification of the Volstead act. Rosenbloom ran second.

In Missouri the entire House delegation, ten Republicans and six Democrats, were renominated. The vote was light.

HAWKS MAKING
SWIFT FLIGHT
ACROSS STATESAverages 180 Miles an Hour In His Dash
Against Time

Wichita, Kan., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Capt. Frank Hawks arrived at the Wichita airport at 11:33 A. M. CTS., today in his dash across the continent against time.

Hawks took off from Roosevelt Field, New York, this morning and made the hop to Wichita from St. Louis, leaving the latter point at 9:31 A. M. C. S. T.

His cruising speed was about 180 miles an hour from New York but he expects to better his time from here to Los Angeles as he has been meeting headwinds. Tailwinds are predicted for the rest of the journey.

Hawks was confident of making the westward continental journey in 15 hours.

The flier paused only long enough to refuel and flew westward again at 11:45 A. M. C. S. T.

He expects to stop at Albuquerque, N. M., for the next fueling operation, before continuing on to Kingman, Ariz., and Los Angeles from where he will turn back toward New York in an effort to lower the west-east record.

TOUR WILL BRING
REP. CANDIDATES
TO DIXON SEPT. 11State-Wide Round-Up Of Voters Planned By Party Leaders

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, candidate for United States Senator, will head a group of the state's leading Republicans in a state-wide round-up of the party's voters beginning September 2 to mark the touching off of the campaign for the November election, according to an announcement by C. J. Doyle, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, here today.

This plan of procedure was decided on at a meeting of the committee yesterday, which also went in to the various problems with which the candidates will be confronted in the campaign.

Prohibition was the principal subject of discussion but it was believed the matter will be sidetracked at the state convention here August 22 by the adoption of a platform plank providing that candidates pledge themselves to abide by the decision of the voters of their respective district on the result of a referendum which is expected to be submitted on the ballot.

The state round-up of Republican voters will consist of a tour of all Congressional districts with Mrs. McCormick in charge. Assisting her in the tour will be most of the political big wigs of the state as well as all candidates for state and district offices.

The round up will be inaugurated at Carbondale on the afternoon of September 2 and will continue as follows:

September 4, Mount Vernon and East St. Louis; September 4, Jacksonville and Springfield; September 5, Decatur and Danville; September 6, Peoria and Bloomington; September 10, Galesburg and Monmouth; September 11, Dixon and DeKalb; and September 12, Waukegan and Moline.

According to Doyle all candidates for state-wide offices will be members of the tour group. In addition he said, it would include Governor L. L. Emmerson, United States Senators Charles S. Deneen and Otis Glenn, State Treasurer Omer Custer, Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom, Speaker David E. Shanahan, Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling, Secretary of State William J. Stratton, State Auditor Oscar E. Nelson, Charles W. Vail, Clerk of the State Supreme Court, President pro tem Martin R. Carlson of the State Senate, as well as the four candidates for University of Illinois trustees to be nominated at the state convention here August 22.

The ordinance further provides that it shall be unlawful for any

An ordinance accompanied by a petition of George W. Schmucker and E. H. Kirwin to subdivide lots was passed by the unanimous vote of the council.

The regular monthly bills amounting to $7,820.34 were ordered paid. The Illinois Northern Utilities Co. today was authorized to direct by the city council to furnish current and service for the lighting system on the Peoria Avenue bridge. The system consists of 20 ornamental posts carrying 200 watt lights. Lowden In Warning
Against Dictator

Charlottesville, Va., Aug. 6.—(UP)—A warning against the danger of a dictatorship in the United States unless popular government acquires and maintains superior efficiency was made by former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois in a speech before the Institute of Public Affairs here last night.

Lowden pointed to the collapse of self-government in many European countries as an indication of the trend of affairs today, and suggested that lack of confidence in democracy was growing in the United States.

"We would be blind if we did not recognize the fact that an assault is being made upon representative government all along the line," Lowden said.

TEXAS LAWYER WHO ASKED AN INVESTIGATION IN DEATH OF WIFE CHARGED WITH MURDERNewspaper Men Uncover Evidence Pointing To His Guilt

Amarillo, Tex., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Charged with murdering his wife with a bomb so he could pursue unhindered a new romance with a former secretary, A. D. Payne, Amarillo attorney, was guarded from mob violence today in an unnamed panhandle jail.

Payne, respected in legal circles, was arrested last night unexpectedly after Gene Howe, militant Amarillo Globe editor, and A. B. MacDonald, Kansas City Star reporter, had laid before district Attorney E. W. Thompson a confession from Mrs. Verona Thompson, Payne's former secretary that the lawyer had made love to her. She charged Payne had promised to marry her after "taking care" of his wife.

earing a mob would attempt to seize Payne in Amarillo he was taken to Pampa, 60 miles away, late last night.

Early today a crowd of men and boys stormed the Amarillo jail and demanded Payne. A deluge of officers escorted through the cells by officers and shown that Payne had been taken away.

Hearing that Payne had been sent to the Pampa jail, the mob started there in automobiles but again were outwitted when Payne was spirited away to still another jail.

Denies Charges
Payne, when arrested, denied all the charges, both that he had made love to Mrs. Thompson, an attractive widow, and that he had anything to do with his wife's death.

Mrs. Payne was killed and a son, A. D. Jr., injured seriously when the family automobile was destroyed on a downtown Amarillo street June 26 by a mysterious blast. The son recovered from his injuries and told police that while his father generally drove the family automobile downtown each morning, on the day of the blast the lawyer walked, asking Mrs. Payne to take the children, A. D. Jr., and Bobbie Jean, downtown later.

The little girl begged to walk with her father, the boy said, and he consented.

A few minutes before he and his mother reached the lawyer's office, the son said, Mrs. Payne remarked: "Daddy told me to drive faster if I smelled smoke."

A moment later the automobile was blown to bits. Mrs. Payne was thrown through the top and killed. The son was mangled but lived.

At first Amarillo police believed the bomb, apparently attached to the motor of the automobile and timed to explode after it became hot, was intended for Payne, but were unable to find a motive.

He Offered Reward
Payne was questioned from time to time during the five weeks since the explosion and he offered $5,000 reward for information that would lead to solution.

The lawyer asked Howe, noted in the southwest as having criticized Colonel Lindbergh and Mary Garden, to undertake an investigation. Howe and MacDonald, a roving reporter for the Kansas City newspaper, appeared last night in the District Attorney's office with Mrs. Thompson's confession.

She charged that he had made violent love to her, promised to marry her and take her to South America when he had "taken care" of his wife. She said they made numerous trips out of town and became so attentive that she was forced to leave his employ.

The District Attorney said investigators had found that Payne took out $30,000 life insurance on his wife shortly before her death and that he had insured his son for $10,000 and the daughter for $5,000.

Payne was emphatic in his denial of all the charges before he was taken away for safe keeping.

Highway Contractor
Has To Pipe Water

Danville, Ill., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Water shortage in the vicinity of Hume, Ill., where streams and ponds have been dried up by the drought, has compelled Keel and Son, Casey, Ill. contractors, who are building the slab on State Route 121, to pipe water five miles from an abandoned rock quarry near Berry Point to a large hole excavated in a dredge ditch near the James farm.

Approximately 40,000 gallons of water are used each day by the mixer on the paving job in sprinkling the completed slab, which is finished by the "water cure".

Work on the paving was delayed one day this week while workmen laid the pipe line from the quarry reservoir, said to be fed by springs. In the event this reservoir gives out the contractors are at a loss to know where next to look for water.

TWO SOLDIERS, A. W. O. L. CAUGHT
IN ASHTON BY OFFICER ROBERTS, WHO SUSPECTED AUTO STOLEN

State Highway Officer Hal Roberts Monday evening became suspicious of the actions of two young men who were reported to be loitering about Ashton and locating them near the city lockup he handcuffed them and brought them to the county jail in Dixon. The two were reported to have driven into Ashton earlier in the day in a Pontiac coupe bearing Utah license plates, but when questioned by Officer Roberts, disclaimed ownership of the car. When searched the keys to the car were found on one of the two young men.

At the county jail they gave the names of Abe Goldman and Eddie Miller, claiming Salt Lake City, Utah, as their home. The officer suspected that the car was stolen and started an investigation which bore out his suspicions yesterday afternoon. It also developed that Goldman, whose right name is Minnick and Miller are members of Co. K, 36th Infantry, Fort Douglas, Utah, United States Army station. They told the officer of having borrowed the car on the afternoon of July 25 from the bugler of their company and going to Salt Lake City for a party.

"Just another case of too much Salt Lake gasoline, or too much booze," Miller told the officers who questioned him. "We borrowed the car, went out on a party, and then kept on going. We had no particular destination but the $125 we had when we started was about all gone and we stopped at Ashton looking for a job with a threshing crew or at any other kind of work."

The commanding officer at Fort Douglas was informed last evening of the presence of the two soldiers who are absent without leave in Dixon. It was understood that no charges would be preferred against the pair here but that they would be turned over to federal authorities on charges of violating the Dyer act in the transportation of a stolen automobile from one state to another.

MAKE DOLLAR
MARK IN HOT
TRADE TODAYChicago Board of Trade
Pits Scene of Exciting Trading

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Corn hit a dollar a bushel today on the Board of Trade in a rampant bull market that also carried wheat up sharply.

May Corn touched $1.01 1-2 a bushel, or 61-2 cents above the opening figure. At the outside sale, December and March corn were up 7 cents from yesterday's close. The pits were wild with excited buyers, who paid whatever the sellers demanded. Many of the scramblers were shorts who failed to cover as reports of damage from drought kept shoving corn prices up during the last two weeks.

Wheat which has been below the price of the coarser grain by anomaly for some time went up as much as 5 cents a bushel while December equals May corn and March wheat went through $1.06.

Advance Rapid

Around midday corn was going up at the rate of a cent a minute. The pits were crowded to overflowing while brokers fought for even a toe hold on the rim of the rostrum.

During this melee, September corn bounded up a dollar and even more.

Official confirmation of the damage to the corn, increasing at "an alarming rate," came in the weekly crop report and at the same time news came from Saskatchewan that spring wheat there is badly afflicted with rust and that thousands of acres would not be worth harvesting.

After advancing a maximum of 7 3/4 cents, corn prices fluctuated wildly in a margin of 1 1/2 cents with wide spreads between the quotations in various parts of the pit because of the excited trading. At the extreme top December corn 97 cents.

SKYROCKET IN K. C.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Grain prices skyrocketed on the Kansas City market again today as a result of the prolonged drought, boosting wheat and corn futures to levels not seen in 10 cents higher for the week. In the early trade corn futures sold 5 to 5 1/2 cents higher than yesterday's close and wheat futures were up about 4 cents.

Soon after the opening of the third wheat sold up to 88 5/8 and December advanced to 93 1/2. At that stage the gain since Saturday's close was 10 1/2 cents.

September corn was quoted at 94 1/2, and December corn at 91. The corn advanced the close last was around 10 1/2 cents.

THE WOOLLY SHEEP
THE Shepherd tends the browsing sheep.
Nibbling the grass on the hill-side steep.
The grass so green and juicy.
The Shearer comes one warm spring day.
To shear the sheep's thick coat away.
The sheep's thick wool so fleecy.
The Shearer's shears go snip, snip, snip.
The Shearer's shears go clip, clip, clip.
Until the sheep is shorn.
Then risks the sheep upon the green.
He is glad to be so cool and clean.
Upon this pleasant morn.

The wool is sent to the knitting mills.
It is washed, and spun, and knitted.
And from the sheep's last winter's coat,
With gloves and clothes I'm fitted.

Have You Heard?

With skirt lengths varying slightly for different times of the day, a good idea is to have at least one slip made with adjustable straps.
The front ends of these straps are not sewn on, but made with three hand-made buttonholes or snaps, about an inch apart. On the inside of the front top there are either tiny flat pearl buttons or the other sides of the snappers, to which they can be fastened.
The same arrangement of straps can be used on the top of pleated sports skirts which you wear with sweaters or overblouses, short with the former, longer with the latter, suitable respectively for active and spectator sports.

Jones-Blaine Wedding Solemnized

Oregon, Aug. 5.—A simple but beautiful wedding ceremony was performed Monday at the home of Victor Jones when Miss Zaida May Jones of Oregon was given in marriage to Dr. Walter C. Blaine of Tuscola, Ill. The bride wore a figured chiffon. Only the immediate families were present, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. A. R. Bickenback. The couple left for a trip to Sister Bay, Wisconsin. Upon their return they will reside in Tuscola where the doctor practices. The bride has been employed as county nurse of Douglas county. The Blaines expect to join Mr. Blaine's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Blaine, of Champaign, at Sister Bay, Wisconsin.

Bathing-Suit Beach Lunches In Vogue With Diplomatic Set

BY SUE McNAMARA
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON.—(A.P.)—South American women of the capital prefer comfort to style in hot weather. Wives and daughters of diplomats go to nearby beaches to spend the entire day in one piece jerseys. They devote their time between the water and the beach. Most of them are good swimmers.
There is little attempt at striking attire though most of them buy their clothes in Buenos Aires, noted for its smart costumes.

Style Consciousness Is Most Apparent At Fashion Show

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(UP)—In smartness of style and variety of chic attire, the girls of "Main Street" outclass those of Broadway and Michigan Avenue, believes Miss S. Marie Percival, Redfield, S. D., modiste.
The superiority of small town style was championed by Miss Percival at the fashion show of the Chicago women's apparel manufacturers and was ascribed to the fact there is more time for living and enjoying life in small communities.
"I have been in the ladies' ready-to-wear business for 25 years," said Miss Percival, "and never in the past have I seen such a development of style consciousness as is going on now in town and country."
"From all that I have seen, these girls on Main Street are leaders in smartness of attire. They buy clothes with fine discrimination and wear them as to the manner born."
While Miss Percival was extolling the clothes-wearing leadership of the village belles, models burdened in heavy tweed suits and suffocating furs minced in review before attending merchants.
Skirts were shown to be longer than ever—an inch or two extra for daytime wear and just clearing the floor for evening. Coats exhibited were longer, flared and fur-trimmed, and were worn with hats of solid or suede.

Girls at White Rock Camp Have Delightful Outing

The girls at White Rock Camp are still enjoying camp life, living together. Monday evening there was an Indian party and the entire camp turned into an Indian village. Tuesday evening the Indians of the night before became plundering pirates who were seeking a hidden treasure.
Wednesday morning the girls took their breakfast and went on a hike and enjoyed a camp fire meal of bacon and eggs.

HEAR OF FILIPINO GIRLS
After breakfast they gathered and listened to G. P. Ventura of the Philippine Islands who talked to them of the "Filipino Girls" and then he sang as he played his Filipino mandoline.
When the girls hiked back to camp they were greeted by ten ladies from Coleta who were awaiting the campers with a delicious chicken dinner.
A party was planned for Wednesday evening with the girls dressed in varied colored costumes brightening the occasions.

YOUR CHILDREN

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
1930 BY N.E.A. SERVICE

The mother of a 15-year-old boy asked me what to do with him. "He is a fine boy," she said, "tall and good-looking. But he won't go out. He stays by himself and reads and his friends can't coax him to go places with them. He is very smart and ahead of his grade in high school which throws him with older boys. He has always associated with people older than himself but he gets less and less sociable. Can he have an inferiority complex? He is very quiet—wants to go away some place. I do all I can to make him happy at home but it doesn't work. What shall I do?"

James and Lila at Parting of the Way

Los Angeles, Aug. 6.—(A.P.)—The seven-year marital venture of James Kirkwood, actor and film director, and Lila Lee, stage and screen actress, was at an end today.

Charging his wife had deserted him, Kirkwood won a divorce decree and the custody of their six-year-old child, James, Jr.

A contract approved by the court voided the custody of the child, leaving the custody of the child to the mother, and the custody of the child to the father, or religious training of the child.

The couple was married July 26, 1923, and parted July 15, 1928.

ARE VISITING PARENTS IN THIS CITY
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Whipple, 410 Brinton avenue, are enjoying a visit from their daughter, Miss Ruth Whipple, who is a stenographer and their son, D. Frank Whipple, of Chicago.

A Change Suggested
I suggested to this mother that she let her own son go away—if she could. If she had friends or relatives in the country where he could help with farm work or merely browse around in the woods it might be an excellent thing.

I also suggested that she might be able to get him a job that he would like, in town—for to keep the body busy and thought off one's self and one's problems is the cure-all for everything. What he needs, of course, is an intense interest in something outside himself. Another solution was to send him, if she could afford it, to an organized camp with instructors who are chosen for their ability to understand and handle boys of all ages and varieties.

No nagging, no scolding, and to keep conversation at home away from that detested subject, "himself." It isn't inferiority—it's merely well—it's merely "15."

WHEN EXPERTS DISAGREE.

Mention has already been made of that murder trial in Ohio where six very eminent psychiatrists blew themselves to opposing opinions concerning the sanity, or otherwise, of a young wife-murderer who was on trial.

As it happened, the jury decided to believe the alienists for the state and to disbelieve the alienists for the defense, or it put the whole expert-testimony racket out of its mind and went ahead to use its common sense; at all events, the prisoner has been convicted of first degree murder and has been sentenced to the electric chair.

However, the taste of this thing lingers. It is such a typical example of the fumbling, incompetent way in which our courts strive to do justice in murder trials that is worth extended examination.

This case was right in the accepted pattern.

The murderer's lawyers called three psychiatrists, all of them very eminent and reputable men. They agreed that the young man was woefully incompetent mentally; he was, they said, half way between a moron and an outright imbecile.

Then the state's attorneys called three other psychiatrists, all of them quite as eminent and reputable as the three the defense had called. They agreed that the young man was quite normal mentally, fully able of weighing the consequences of his acts and distinguishing between right and wrong.

Now we haven't the faintest notion whether this particular killer was, in fact, a lunatic or a normal human being. But it does strike us that this method of getting at the truth is about as poorly devised as anything one could imagine.

Why, in the name of ordinary logic, wouldn't it be better to hold the sanity hearing in advance of the trial, with qualified alienists hired, not to testify for one side or the other, but simply to render the truth as they saw it? If they reported the prisoner insane he could be locked up; if they found him sane, he could be put on trial and the case could be decided on its merits.

The present system leads only to confusion. It offers the hardened, intelligent killer a chance to escape the punishment he deserves, and it also makes it possible for the state to electrocute some poor nitwit who ought to be in a hospital. The one thing it does not do is offer a chance for dealing out exact justice.

There is a good deal of talk nowadays about respecting the courts. How is it possible to respect a system that undertakes to get at the truth in a roundabout, inefficient manner like this?

GLENN CURTISS' RECORD

Aviation has lost one of its most distinguished pioneers in the death of Glenn Curtiss.

Curtiss was by no means an old man when he died; yet his active career had spanned all of aviation's infancy. He had seen airplanes develop from crude, unsafe experimental machines to the soaring, reliable affairs that carry mail and passengers all over the country today; and by his own efforts he aided materially in the amazing development which made aviation's position today possible.

The glory of making the first flight, and proving that man could sprout wings, belongs of course to the Wright brothers. But Curtiss was not a great distance behind the famous Dayton bicycle repairmen. His work was of great value. Aviation is distinctly the poorer by his death.

ALASKA'S MILD WINTERS.

Boosters of Alaska have always insisted that one of the great obstacles to the proper development of that potentially rich territory is the current misconception of its winter weather.

A western magazine points out that the lowest temperature recorded in Sitka, Alaska, in the past 100 years is four degrees below zero. In the year 1927 the lowest temperature recorded was 12 above—while on 10 days during that winter the mercury actually rose above the freezing point.

There is a record that a great many towns in the states can envy. If Alaskan winters can be that mild, the booster's complaint that we over-estimate the unpleasantness of Alaska's climate would seem to be justified.

A man living in Woolwich, England, has made his own coffin and sleeps in it to be sure it fits. There's a fellow who likes his bier.

There's no reason to believe that the Washington boy who made a violin from 2500 matches was trying to make light of music.

During his campaign, a candidate in Arkansas gave out sandwiches which poisoned 60 persons. The guess is they were filled with boloney.

Fact for today: The Scotch are most eagerly sought as life guards because they are such a saving people.

PUMPKINS KEEP WELL
Logansport, Ind., (U.P.)—Six solid, well preserved pumpkins pulled from the vines late in September, 1929, are in the fruit house of E. F. McGinnis, Lake Cicott. McGinnis, truck farmer, stores pumpkins for winter use each fall, but usually does not keep them longer than February. The vegetables are of the old fashioned sweet variety.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.)

All afternoon the Tinymites walked round the town, just seeing sights. "By night," exclaimed the Travel Man, "we'll sure be all tired out. But, while we're here, it seems to me, 'tis best to see all we can see. Then, when we leave you'll just know what this country's all about." So, on they went till Scouty cried, "Where's Clowny? Is he trying to hide? I cannot see him anywhere. Perhaps he's dropped behind." And sure enough, as Scouty feared, he suddenly had disappeared. Said Copy, "If he's fooling us, he isn't very kind."

The Travel Man was much concerned. Down several streets they quickly turned, but nowhere was poor Clowny seen. He'd simply dropped from sight. "We must find him, at any cost," said Copy. "Now, I'm sure he's lost. I only hope, wherever he is, that he is quite all right." The search kept on till almost dark. Then Scouty loudly shouted,

"Hark! I think I heard wee Clowny's voice. Somebody's shouting, 'Hey!' Then, for the bunch there came a treat. They spied poor Clowny down the street. He ran right up to them and said, 'Oh gee, I've been away. I hopped a cart that passed our way and then the pony ran away. When someone caught him I jumped off. That was a trip quite rare.' Well, have your fun, lad, now and then, but please don't pull that trick again. We've all been looking round for you. You gave us all a scare." That night the Tinies slept real sound and in the morning they were bound for some new land. The Travel Man was teasing them. Where they were bound he would not tell, but said, "I know you'll think it's swell." They took a train and then a boat and sailed right out to sea.

THE TRANSFIGURATION
On August 6, Greek and Latin churches commemorate the anniversary of the Transfiguration, when Christ ascended Mount Tabor with three favorite disciples, Peter, James and John, and revealed a supernatural change in his personal appearance.

A chapel dedicated to the Transfiguration caps the highest peak of Mount Athos in Greece, where a great annual service is performed on the recurrence of the festival. Tozer describes the scene as follows:

"As we approached from the east we first heard the sound of chanting from within the chapel, and when we came round the platform in front a scene appeared which I shall never forget. Distinctly seen in the moonlight were the weird, ghostly figures of the monks closely wrapped in their gowns, with long black beards and mushroom locks, some sitting close to the little window of the chapel, where the service was going on, some lying about in groups, like the figures of the three apostles in Raphael's picture of the Transfiguration. At intervals, as we sat there, the priest came out arrayed in gorgeous vestments and swung the incense about us. The vigil lasted a whole night."

ALICE WHITE

A keen-eyed director spotted Alice pounding the keys of a studio typewriter. In a few short years a new White star rose in Hollywood's heavens. Alice White was endowed by Nature with a special charm to thrill the millions.

OLD GOLD, too, is one of Nature's favorites. Endowed with mellow, sweeter tobaccos. It gave to millions a brand new taste-thrill, without a trace of throat-irritation. ## JUDGES FOR LEE COUNTY FAIR ARE ANNOUNCED TODAY

Entries For the Races Are Being Made In Satisfactory Way

Amboy, Ill., Aug. 6.—The list of judges for the Lee County Fair this year, Aug. 20-23 was announced today by S. W. Pettigrew, Secretary of the Fair Association.

For the Floral Hall exhibits which contain the varied displays of flowers, canned fruits and vegetables, dairy and household products and needlework, Phyllis J. Barnes of Elgin has been secured as judge. Miss Barnes has served as judge of this department for two years and her services have always been highly satisfactory.

J. M. Rapp, of Mendota will judge the poultry, grain, fruits and vegetable classes. For the swine classes, H. F. Adams of Peoria, a member of the Poland-China Breeders Association of the State of Illinois has been secured as judge. Mr. Adams is a swine judge of wide reputation and is also in charge of the Poland-China judging at the Central States Fair and Exposition at Aurora this year.

Frank Guernsey of Mendota will judge the sheep at the Lee County Fair this year, and the judging of horses will be done by Harry Harrington of Sterling, who is also to act in the capacity of official starter for the harness horse races.

Ray Nelson of DeKalb who is known all through this part of the country for his expert knowledge of cattle will serve as judge of both the beef and dairy cattle classes. Mr. Nelson is engaged in a farm management enterprise at Sycamore and is well known for his ability in handling all matters pertaining to the farm.

The above list of judges constitutes one of the best that has been booked by the local fair association and will undoubtedly prove satisfactory to the great list of exhibitors who annually bring their livestock for display at the Lee County Fair.

With the Fair opening still two weeks away, pen reservations for the hog classes are already half filled and entries are coming in fast for all the other livestock departments. Overflow space it is expected will have to be provided on the grounds in order to take care of the mammoth list which is practically assured in all the livestock classes.

The fair association a few days ago closed a contract with one of the finest dance bands that has ever been secured to play on the local fair grounds. Bredfield's Beau Brummels, direct from Northwestern University and the Drake Hotel will provide the music for the dancing on the huge open-air pavilion floor and will also furnish the musical program for the afternoon race card each day. This musical organization, a band of ten pieces, has been playing all the job work at the Drake Hotel and is the foremost campus orchestra at Northwestern and the fair association feels fortunate in having secured them for a four-days' appearance at the fair here.

Entries are being received daily for the huge auto race program to be run off Saturday, Aug. 23, the final day of the fair. Purses of $1000 are offered for the various events of speed on this afternoon's program which is positively to be the greatest auto race program ever staged in Lee County.

One of the more spectacular of the free attractions booked for the fair is the somersaulting auto which showed at the State Fair at Springfield last year and which has the popular endorsement of Clarence Buck, former Secretary of Agriculture of the State of Illinois who headed the State's Fair management in 1929. This patented car turns turtle, making a complete somersault in mid-air with the driver strapped to his position in the seat. On the final day of the fair the dare-devil car will be featured with a woman as a driver.

The greatest feature of the night program this year will be the musical revue which will be staged at 7:30 each evening in front of the amphitheater and which will rival the stage attractions of the highest class vaudeville theaters.

RECOVERY FROM T. B.
By Howard L. Hull, M. D., F. A. C. P.
Elma, Washington

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

A generation ago a diagnosis of tuberculosis was almost equivalent to a death sentence. The disease was usually discovered in its late stages and truly merited the name "consumption". Now it is quite different, thanks to specialized training of physicians and to the aid of the laboratory and the x-ray.

Suppose you have been told by a competent physician that you have tuberculosis in an active form. May be you doubt the diagnosis and before you can believe it you will consult several other physicians. You may get conflicting opinions and yet all of them may be honest.

Your most natural questions then are: "Can I get well? How long will it take?" Concerning your chances of recovery, your friends will give you various opinions ranging from no chance at all to every hope of recovery, regardless of your condition.

Do people really recover from tub-

Police Uncover Detroit Gangster's Arsenal

Michigan state police and Detroit officers are shown here inspecting the 57 pistols, four shotguns, two rifles and two machine guns seized in raids on gangster's hideouts in the drastic cleanup campaign that followed the murder of Gerald Buckley, crusading radio announcer. Lieutenant Joseph M. Sheridan of the state police, extreme left, and Detroit Police Commissioner Thomas C. Wilcox are discussing the workings of a Browning sub-machine gun that Wilcox is holding. More than half of the guns seized have figured in killings as proved by matched bullets taken from victims, according to the police.

erculosis? Eminent medical authorities aver that tuberculosis properly managed is one of the most curable of all chronic diseases, but they add that it is one that has great tendencies to relapse. That is, it is likely to recur, and this fact must be known by the patient.

It goes without saying that the earlier the disease is discovered, the better the chance the patient has for recovery, but an even more important matter is the resistance of the patient. Upon resistance really depends the recovery more than upon any other factor. A patient with a very small amount of infection, who has poor resistance, may even under favorable conditions, advance into the serious stages of tuberculosis and die. On the other hand, an extensive tuberculosis, properly treated, in a patient with good resistance, may proceed to recovery. Some patients will recover regardless of what they do; others will die, no matter what is done for them. Fortunately, most recover who are treated properly, over a sufficient period of time.

What are the essentials for recovery? First, a physician who understands tuberculosis and is experienced in handling it, and second, a patient who will co-operate with his physician and will have confidence in him.

Is it necessary to go to some low, dry climate, or some high, dry climate? There may be some reasonable difference of opinion on the part of physicians in regard to this, but the consensus of medical opinion is that climate is a very small, or negligible factor in the treatment of tuberculosis. There may, however, be some cases where climate would be of value, but they are exceptional.

The patient must first know enough about his disease so that he can fully appreciate, not only that he has the disease, but something as to its extent and as to his resistance. It is a mistake to keep patients in complete ignorance of their condition, as this prevents proper co-operation.

As to the time required, we count it in months. Even the earliest type of lung tuberculosis should have a period of treatment, not less than six months, with observation period of at least a year longer. A patient cannot spend too much time in getting well, but he can spend too little.

REST. This is the first essential toward recovery and its degree and its continuation must be prescribed by the doctor in charge. Fresh air and food are of importance, but are quite secondary in value to rest. A balanced diet such as any healthy individual would eat, and modifications of this to fit certain complications are recommended.

As a final warning, the convalescent should beware of over-confidence and should resume his work only on recommendation of his physician. The slogan in tuberculosis may very well be put "I cannot judge my condition by how I happen to feel."

WILLIAM SOUTHERN, JR., EDITOR OF THE INDEPENDENCE (MISSOURI) EXAMINER, SAYS:

THAT he was a little fellow, seven years old, very self-reliant and sensitive. He came to my chair one afternoon and his lips were quivering, and I knew that his feelings had been seriously bruised. Placing my arm about him I asked what was the matter, and he said, "Nobody choosed me." He manfully kept back the tears and told the story. He had been at a neighbor's yard where a group of boys all older were chosing up to play ball and, with the brutality of youth and scorn for anybody who was not as grown up as they, the little fellow was not selected on either team.

Of course, I knew that this was one of the deep tragedies of youth and I also knew that no matter how old and how experienced and how wise we may become, we are still very sensitive if at any time groups of men and women leave us out of pleasant activities which are going on about us.

A young woman of my acquaintance not long ago told me that she was going to leave the University of Missouri after one year and attend another university. While she was smiling about it, and gave the ordinary excuses, yet I discovered that when the sorority rulers had made up their lists, her name had not been included. "Nobody choosed her."

Vesuvius in Eruption Before Quake

Smoke and fire ominously belching from the cone of historic Mount Vesuvius, as pictured above, gave sinister warning of the earthquake which was to rock south-central Italy. This Dixon Evening Telegraph NEA Service photo, taken shortly before the disastrous temblors which cost many hundreds of lives, shows the great volcano in eruption. Increased activity within the crater since the quake has caused alarm among residents of nearby towns.

A little later, when we are out in the world of society and business, we become more careful of the feelings of others, or we become more brutal. I am quite sure that nothing ever comes into the ordinary life of an individual which leaves so much grief and pain as the realization that nobody wants him or her, that for some reason unknown to the earnest for companionship and sympathy and to be in the midst of things is not recognized. WITH QUIVERING LIPS AND WORDS UNSPOKEN, WE CARRY TO THE SOLITUDE OF SELF THE BITTER WORDS, "NOBODY CHOOSSED ME."

ALEXANDER IS RELEASED THIRD TIME IN SEASON

Things Surely Breaking Bad For Famous Diamond Star

Chicago, Aug. 6—(A.P.)—Grover Cleveland Alexander, once one of baseball's greatest pitchers, has been released for the third time this season.

He was notified by the Toledo American Association club last night that his services were not desired. He had never even worn a Toledo uniform.

"Old Pete" was released by the Dallas team of the Texas League several weeks ago after being taken out of the box. He previously had been given his freedom by the Philadelphia Athletics.

Then the Toledo Mud Hens signed him up. Alexander was to have pitched his first game at Toledo Sunday. Photographers were there, even sound movies were to be taken, the park was filled with thousands who came to see the former world series hero in his much ballyhooed comeback attempt. But he failed to appear.

Oscar J. Smith, president of the Toledo Club, in Chicago attending a meeting of minor league executives, heard Alexander was in town and went up to the hotel room where the pitcher was supposed to be staying. He was met by a nurse who refused to allow him to enter.

Smith asked what Alexander intended to do and the nurse replied, "I can't tell you anything about it. I suppose when there is anything said, Mr. Alexander will communicate with you."

The nurse refused to take any message to her patient so Smith went down to the lobby and wrote the following telegram:

"The Toledo Baseball Company hereby notifies you that the deal for your services is called off and the Toledo Baseball Company does not desire your service."

It was learned that Alexander came here Friday on his way to Toledo and that he had been under the care of a nurse ever since. The nurse declined to say to who with him or what the nature of his illness was. She merely said he was a "very sick man."

Yesterday's Stars

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hack Wilson, Cubs—Aided in defeat of Cardinals with 36th homer with one on.

Bill Akers, Tigers—His eighth inning homer with one on scored tying and winning runs against Indians.

Bill Terry, Giants—Hit homer, double and three singles against Robins and went into league batting lead.

Fred Frankhouse, Braves—Held Phils to six hits, beat them 6-2.

Cedric Durst, Red Sox—Collected two singles, double and triple against Athletics and scored winning run in ninth.

Charley Ruffing, Yankees—Scattered Senator's nine hits, struck out nine, hit homer and double and won, 7-1.

SPORT BRIEFS

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 6—(A.P.)—Five months of tennis has failed to suffice the members of America's Davis Cup team. A few minutes after they had arrived from Europe, Bill Tilden, George Lott, Wilmer Allison, John Van Ryn, Gregory Mangin and Berkeley Bell were on their way to participate in the annual Southampton Invitation tournament at the Meadow Club.

Lott yesterday beat Jack Delara of the University of Southern California, 6-4, 6-3. All other members of the team were to swing into action today. Favorites advanced in yesterday's play, Bryant Grant, Atlanta youngster, won an easy victory over Marcel Rainville of Montreal, 6-3, 6-4.

Chicago, Aug. 6—(UP)—Fidel La Barba of California and Earl Mastor of Chicago, rival Italian contenders for the world featherweight boxing championship, have completed boxing preparations for their 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium Thursday and planned only light workouts today.

Neither boxer encountered difficulty in making the required weight 126 pounds, and both will enter the ring slightly under that figure.

The fighters have met twice before, each winning a decision and on their comparative records the bout is a toss-up, but Mastor's Chicago supporters have established him as a slight betting favorite.

Chicago, Aug. 6—(UP)—Rudolph Juran of Minneapolis will seek his third national southpaw golf championship in the 24th annual left-handed tournament at Midlothian Country Club Thursday. The 36-tournament is open to all left-handed golfers representing clubs affiliated with the U. S. G. A.

Other entrants include Ward Elenhut, Racine, Wis., W. H. Schillerkin, Wilmette.

Kansas City, Aug. 6—(A.P.)—The flood-lighted open golf tournament programmed for tonight at the Eastwood Hills course here today had attracted 66 crack amateur and professional entrants representing

Polo? It's strictly a family affair to them! Pictured above as they arrived in New York on their American invasion, are the four Ashton brothers, Australia's most famous polo team. Girl Stowaway is Home Again

Home again after a thrilling adventure as a stowaway, Elinor Trott, 22-year-old New Orleans art student, evidently is enjoying use of a beauty compact she didn't have an opportunity to use during the trip. Stranded in Mexico, where she was studying, Miss Trott hid aboard the S. S. Morazan, bound from Vera Cruz to New Orleans. She was discovered but escaped prosecution when she proved her United States citizenship. She formerly was a secretary in the Department of Commerce at Washington.

MEMPHIS MAN HAS BIBLE 315 YEARS OF AGE

Heirloom Returned to Him on Death of Ohio Woman

Memphis, Tenn.—(U.P.)—A Scottish printer in 1615 produced a Bible which the Rev. C. W. McCann, Memphis pastor now owns.

The Bible, 315 years old, came into the possession of the minister's ancestors shortly after its publication by Robert Bakker, Scottish printer and subject to His Majesty, King James IV. It is the St. James version, printed in boldface type, believed by the Rev. McCann to be the only one of its kind in existence.

The McCann family "lost track" of the Bible for 79 years, until the present owner discovered it in the possession of an Ohio woman 14 years ago. Establishing his right to the sacred book, the minister requested the privilege of reclaiming it. It was willed to him by the woman on her deathbed.

In what may be its final public exhibition, the Bible was used by the Rev. McCann in scripture readings at the home-coming services at the Gospel Tabernacle church here recently.

Daily air passenger service has been inaugurated between Monterey, Mexico, and San Antonio, Tex., by a Mexican company with an American-made plane.

The Hollywood Story

COPYRIGHT 1930

by ERNEST LYNN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Through a letter that he receives from a friend in New York, DAN RORIMER, Hollywood scenario writer and former New York newspaper man, meets ANNE WINTER, who has come from Tulsa, Okla., to try to get extra work in the movies.

Dan finds her charming and takes a deep interest in her. She learns from him that he works at Confidential Pictures, and she gathers that he is not quite satisfied with conditions there. She has worked only one day as an extra herself, having been there but a short time, but a few days after their meeting she gets extra work at Grand United.

Her first day there she meets a girl named MONA MORRISON, and immediately likes her. Mona is living in an apartment with EVA HARLEY, and Anne fixes alone, and Mona suggests that the three occupy a bungalow that she and Eva have seen.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VIII

ANNE WINTER had moved and was now living with Mona Morrison and Eva Harley in the little furnished bungalow on the western fringe of Hollywood. It was a modest place of pale-green stucco, but it was cheerful and well-lighted and "homey"; and Dan Rorimer, contrasting it with Anne's former quarters, could well understand her enthusiasm for the change.

"A place to live in," Anne said, "rather than mere storage for one's body and one's belongings." And she had added: "Even if it is too close to the tracks to be fashionable, it's a home at least; which is more than I could say for one room and a kitchenette."

Mona won Rorimer's liking instantly. She was as vivid as her flaming hair, which was curly and bobbed, and she didn't look a day over 19, and she was slightly tough in a pleasant, boyish way that he found altogether delightful. She was considerably shorter than Anne, and more rounded, and Dan suspected that Mona might occasionally have to pay careful attention to her diet. He discovered before he had known her more than a few minutes that she was quite a tease and that she seemed to take keen delight in plaguing her friends and receiving their banter in return.

Eva Harley he liked, too, but with reservations. She had been neither cordial nor unfriendly in her greeting, but after a brief smile and a murmured commonplace or two had quietly withdrawn from the conversation, and Dan sensed a guarded aura about her that left him a little ill at ease in her presence.

She was a striking looking person, though—tall and slender and lithe of figure, and languorous of motion—and crowned almost spectacularly with abundant pale-gold hair. Gorgeous looking, Rorimer thought, at the same time remarking that her mouth was just a little too wide and thin of lip to be beautiful; her cheek bones a trifle high, and marring the oval contour of her face. And he judged that she was older than the other two girls.

Anne had said, "Eva's just a little uncommunicative and mysterious, but I like her—she minds her own business, and that's saying a great deal."

"It is," Dan agreed, "for a girl."

"Well, you needn't be uncomplimentary," she said with a grimace, and Dan grinned. "Where is she from?" he asked. "Somewhere down south, with that drawl. You can't fool a Tennesseean."

"Eva comes from New Orleans," Anne informed him. "Mona says she has been in Hollywood almost three years."

"Doing extra work?"

"Yes, extra work."

"Dan had gone over to the bungalow one evening to call on Anne. It was shortly after their removal, and he found the girls busy with some new pale-green curtains which Anne had that day bought for the kitchen. And it was that evening that he asked Anne about Eva; but first he had been put to work hanging curtains.

It was Mona who opened the door for him, and she said, "Anne, it's the boy friend from New York."

She said, "Come in, and wipe off your feet and take off your hat; the butler is off duty this evening. . . . My goodness, you're all shaved up this evening, aren't you?"

Rorimer said, "Pipe down, nuisance!" and followed her in "Good evening, Miss Harley," he said to Eva, and held out his hand; and the girl smiled as she took it and said, "Good evening, Mr. Rorimer."

Plane Crash Lifts Newly-Wed Earl to Marquis' Estate

It narrowly missed being a double tragedy when, as shown above, an air-taxi crashed precariously near an occupied house at Meopham, England. Six of the plane's occupants, four of them members of British nobility, died in the mysterious mid-air explosion which sent the craft hurtling to earth. The main part of the wreckage is seen in this picture. Note that the tail of the plane and one wing are missing; they were torn off before the ship struck the ground.

The airplane tragedy which cost the lives of four members of Britain's nobility brought the title of Marquis of Dufferin and Avon to the honey-mooning young Earl of Ava, pictured at the right. He was on a wedding tour with his bride, the former Miss Maureen Guinness, left, when he received news that the former Marquis had been killed in the recent crash of a taxi-plane at Meopham, England, and that the title would descend to him.
